

The Goodness From My Heart

I'm a girl who is still young and learning,
For life's fruits, I find my yearning.
Sometimes that fruit will drop down rotten,
But even those should not be forgotten.
Because of them, we learn to be forgiving,
We learn to feel disappointment and continue living.
Don't feel guilty for the bad fruit,
Sometimes it's not your gardening but the root.